

TWO BARABOO MEN
JAILED FOR MURDERVESTER AND JOHN MATTOX
ARE LOCKED UP.

Sheriff From Virginia Arrested Them For a Crime Alleged to Have Been Committed in That State, and They Are Taken Back For Trial—Other Wrong Doers.

Baraboo, Nov. 11.—[Special]—Vester and John Mattox were arrested here this morning by a Virginia sheriff on the charge of murder. Requisition papers were secured and both will be taken to Virginia for trial.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 11.—A murderous attack was made on Perry Watkins, a mine boss at the Ishkooda mines, Saturday night by three miners, Louis Smith, Jr., Louis Smith, Sr., and Columbus Madden. The assailants charged that Watkins was cheating them in their check weights. After being knocked down with a board by Madden, Watkins drew a pistol and shot all three of his assailants. Madden received a ball in his stomach, and the younger Smith one in the breast. The elder Smith was shot in the back. Madden died instantly and young Smith an hour afterward. The elder Smith may survive. Watkins was held justifiable and not arrested.

Attempt to Wreck a Train.
Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 11.—Friday night a frog was spiked in the Illinois Central railroad yards in Normal by driving coupling links and pins in the same, and a passenger train came near being wrecked. It was on a high embankment, and it is believed it was done for the purpose of wrecking the train. Saturday night a boy by the name of Matt Kenney, 14 years of age, was arrested, and it is believed others are implicated.

Leavenworth Capitalist Shot.
Leavenworth, Kan., Nov. 11.—Major James M. Laing, a wealthy capitalist and coal operator, was shot and seriously wounded in the groin by Crawford Moore, a traveling salesman of this city. The shooting, it is asserted, was the result of Major Laing's attentions to Mrs. Moore.

Burglars Make a Queer Choice.
Akron, Ohio, Nov. 11.—Burglars entered the Frank Laubach & Nutt jewelry store, the largest in Akron, early this morning and carried off about 150 watches left for repairs. Thousands of dollars' worth of goods were in plain view but nothing else was touched. The loss will be $2,000. Entrance was gained through a coal-hole in the street.

After Ship Scuttlers.
St. Johns, N. F., Nov. 11.—Preparations are being made for the arrest of all persons implicated in the frauds connected with the scuttling of the ships along the coast of Newfoundland. The police have in their possession a list of all persons supposed to be at the bottom of this matter. Upon the list appears the names of business men, middle men, captains and seamen. The police anticipate being able to secure abundance evidence against these persons before the end of the week.

AFTER THE CONVENTIONS.
Two National Committees to Decide on Locations Soon.

Washington, Nov. 11.—An informal meeting of the principal members of the republican national committee will be held in New York during the first week in December. This will antedate the meeting of the committee to be held in this city and will probably settle in advance the location of the next republican convention.

Three cities are in the race—Chicago, Pittsburg and San Francisco. Quay is in favor of Pittsburg for the convention city, and the Pennsylvania town is quite likely to get it. Of the other men, Chairman Carter and Platt are understood to favor Chicago. Clarkson advocates San Francisco. There is some opposition among the republicans to Chicago, because of its accessibility. They claim that thousands of politicians from the states adjoining Illinois make it a point to go to Chicago, and when there run the convention to suit themselves.

Chairman Harrity of the national democratic committee says his committee will meet in Washington early in January. He says it is hardly likely that the republicans will hold their convention before that of the democrats, although they are quite likely to try to. The democratic committee has never been bound down by the rule, which obtains in republican circles, that the convention must not be held until six months after the meeting of the committee. It will hold its convention at whatever time it sees fit. Five cities are mentioned for the democratic convention—Chicago, San Francisco, St. Louis, Denver and Buffalo. Of these all but Chicago are active candidates. Most of the members of the committee favor Chicago.

Lake and Railway Pool Denied.
Cleveland, O., Nov. 11.—Harvey D. Goulder, attorney for the Lake Carriers' association, said yesterday that there was no foundation for the story from Chicago concerning a pool embracing the lake steamers and railways for the control of the freight-carrying business. He believed the diversified character of the freight carried would render it impossible for the railways and vessel owners to form a pool that would be satisfactory to the latter.

THE NEEDS OF THE NAVY

Commodore Hichborn's Annual Report Is Made—Models to Be Used

Washington, Nov. 11.—Commodore Philip Hichborn, chief of the bureau of construction and repair of the navy, has completed his report for the year. The report includes estimates for next year, the most important of which is $5,850,679 to be expended on vessels authorized by congress for the increase of the navy. He also asks for $1,500,000 for the general repair of vessels and the purchase of stores and machinery; $523,000 for the continuance of work already authorized on the Hartford, the Chicago and other vessels; and $500,000 for two composite sailing vessels. He dwells especially upon the necessity of adequate money for the repair of vessels, covering modern steel ships, which, with their extreme subdivision and elaborate systems of ventilation, drainage and mechanical auxiliaries of all kinds, require much greater care, both when in commission and in ordinary, than was formerly the case with the old wooden ships.

Commodore Hichborn notes the completion and acceptance, during the year, of the Marblehead, the Columbia, the Olympia and the Minneapolis; gives the status of other vessels which are almost completed, and also states the fact in connection with contracts recently let and specifications made under the authority of the last naval appropriation bill. He suggests the importance of appropriations sufficient to put the navy-yard plants at Portsmouth, N. H., Boston, Mass., New York, League Island, Norfolk, Va., and Mare Island, Cal., in a condition to meet the demands of the immediate future.

He thinks $125,000 necessary at Norfolk, $75,000 at New York, and $70,000 at Mare Island. He also renews the recommendation of last year for the appropriation of $75,000 for each of the new stations at Port Royal and Puget Sound. This money is, he says, necessary to equip the stations with tools, so as to enable them to cover the ordinary repair work.

Probably the most important part of the report is that devoted to the necessity of increased dry-dock facilities. Mr. Hichborn notes the fact that there was no dock, government or private, in the country sufficiently large to dock the Indiana preliminary to her trial trip. "If," he says, "such a condition confronts the department in time of peace, it is easily realized how serious a defect it would prove in time of war, when the casualties of battle and necessity for keeping the bottoms of vessels in such condition that they might develop their highest speed would largely increase the demands on our docking facilities."

The chief contractor indorses the recommendation of the constructor at Boston for a dock there sufficient in size to take the largest vessel, as he does also similar recommendations from the constructors at Norfolk and Mare Island. Mr. Hichborn also recommends that "in order that the plants at our naval stations may always be kept in a high state of efficiency for the performance of the general work of repairing and fitting out, it is earnestly recommended that in future appropriate provision be made for having at least one vessel in course of construction at each of the three principal naval yards."

Explaining the reason for the suggestion, he says that the completion of vessels building at the New York and Norfolk navy yards has necessitated the discharge of a large proportion of the skilled force hitherto employed at those stations, and it will be exceedingly difficult to maintain the efficiency of the construction and repairing plants at those yards unless early measures are taken to give regular employment to a small force of skilled mechanics in each of the principal yards.

The report renews the recommendations previously made of an experimental tank in which carefully conducted experiments could be made with models in such a way as to anticipate the performance of the completed vessel, these results not being capable of attainment in any other way.

BIG COAL COMBINE FORMING.

Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia Interests Form a Pool.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 11.—A great soft coal combination has been effected in this city, which includes all the bituminous interests in Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia that do a tidewater business. A pool has been formed similar to that now controlling the anthracite coal trade.

The big railroads in the deal are the Pennsylvania, the Baltimore and Ohio, the Beech Creek, the Philadelphia and Reading, the Huntington and Broad Top and the West Virginia Central. The Norfolk and Western is said not to be in it. The new combine will have several consolidated offices, but will not abolish the private offices now in existence. A close watch will be kept upon all the companies. Each company will be allotted a certain tonnage per month. They will not be permitted under penalty to exceed that tonnage. The numerous strikes and the cuts in prices are the chief reasons given for the combine.

Verdict Against a Railroad.
Huntington, Ind., Nov. 11.—A verdict for $3,000 has been given in the Huntington Circuit court against the Chicago & Erie railway on account of the death of Brakeman Glannon Sloan, who was killed at Delong while making a coupling.

BRAINS DASHED OUT
BY A HARD FALLMARSHFIELD MAN MEETS A VIOLENT DEATH.

Was at Work on the School Building and Got a Thirty-Five Foot Tumble—Green Bay Man Fatally Hurt By a Band Saw—Other Accidents.

Marshfield, Nov. 11.—[Special]—Frank Sandy fell a distance of thirty-five feet from the school building and received injuries from which he died this morning.

Green Bay, Nov. 11.—[Special]—Henry VanLandenberg was struck on the head by a piece of steel from a band saw which burst and was probably fatally injured this morning.

Three Trainsmen Killed.
Newberg, N. Y., Nov. 11.—The boiler of a locomotive attached to a south-bound freight train on the Lehigh and Hudson River railroad exploded yesterday at Lake station, near Warwick. Engineer Cooper, Conductor O'Neill and the head brakeman, name unknown, were instantly killed. Their bodies were badly mangled. The fireman sustained injuries from which it is expected he will not recover. The boiler and cab were blown off the wheels, and the train continued running for more than a mile after the explosion.

Railroad Accident Reported.
Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 11.—There has been an accident on the Louisville and Nashville railroad near Franklin, eighteen miles south of Nashville. Many reports are in circulation, and it is stated both engineers and several passengers have been killed. It is impossible to learn anything except that a New Orleans train and a freight train ran into each other four miles south of Franklin and many lives were lost, including passengers.

Accident to Scotch Express Train.
London, Nov. 11.—An accident to the Scotch express from London to Saint Neots, eight miles southwest of Huntingdon, on the Great Northern railway, caused by the breaking of a rail, yesterday resulted in the death of a lady passenger. Five persons were also seriously injured.

Freight Conductor Killed.
Youngstown, O., Nov. 11.—E. P. Hickok, a veteran freight conductor on the Pittsburg and Western railroad, was killed here yesterday. Hickok was in the caboose, when a fast freight struck his train, demolishing the caboose and injuring Hickok so that he died an hour later. Two brakemen were caught in the debris, but escaped with a few bruises. Hickok was 45 years old and leaves a family.

FINANCIAL LEGISLATION.

Former Controller of the Treasury Talks of New Revenue Bill.

New York, Nov. 11.—In speaking of the probable financial legislation at the next session of congress President A. B. Hepburn of the Third National bank and former comptroller of the treasury said: "From talks with Representative Reed, Senator Carter and others the general idea seems to be to pass a revenue bill covering lumber, wool and beer, so as to furnish the required revenue. Then if the bill is vetoed by the president they will be able to throw the responsibility for its failure upon him. In the meantime we may have to have another issue of bonds. Secretary Carlisle, I understand, is going to propose specific legislation in order to place the responsibility upon congress."

Illinois Y. W. C. A. Convention Ends.
Peoria, Ill., Nov. 11.—The twelfth annual convention of the Illinois Young Women's Christian association came to a close last night with a farewell service, which was held at the First Congregational church. The different church pulpits in the city were supplied with Y. W. C. A. leaders of the state. The convention was pronounced one of the most successful yet held.

Double Scull Race Off.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 11.—The double scull race between Bueber and Haines and Gaudaur and Rogers for the championship of the world has been declared off. The owner of the lake where the race was to be rowed objected to the exhibition on Sunday, and the result was that the race was immediately declared off.

Salisbury Praised by the French.
Paris, Nov. 11.—The Temps and Journal des Debats applaud as vigorous and noble the marquis of Salisbury's speech at the lord mayor's banquet Saturday and assert that the premier of England's latest utterances tend to maintain peace and calm public anxiety.

Offered the Swiss Mission.
Kansas City, Nov. 11.—It is announced here that President Cleveland has tendered to John L. Peak, a Kansas City lawyer, the appointment as United States minister to Switzerland to succeed James O. Broadhead of St. Louis, who recently tendered his resignation to the president.

Thurman May Recover.
Columbus, O., Nov. 11.—The condition of Allen G. Thurman is much improved, and his physicians now believe that he will recover from this attack.

A BIG FIRE RAGED
AT MILWAUKEETANNERY WAS LAID LOW THIS MORNING.

Blaze Started at 3:30 A. M. and All the City Apparatus Was Called to Fight, It—Another Big Blaze At Rockford—Fires at Other Places.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 11.—[Special]—At 3:30 this morning fire broke out in Uhrig's coal yard on Vogel's island opposite the Layton & Co's. packing plant and within a few minutes the docks for a hundred feet or more were ablaze.

The whole system of coal sheds extending for fully one block was aflame and the Layton plant is seriously endangered.

Three alarms were sent in, bringing out nearly every piece of fire apparatus in the city.

Another Blaze at Rockford, Ill.
Rockford, Ill., Nov. 11.—The fire in the Henry block Saturday night was followed by another at the Union foundry last evening, which for a time threatened the destruction of the Skandis Plow factory, which adjoins it. The foundry was as dry as tinder and made a big blaze, but the department did superior work and succeeded in extinguishing the flames before they had spread. The foundry building was badly damaged. There is a growing belief that the numerous blazes of late are the work of firebugs.

Firemen Hurt by a Live Wire.
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 11.—During a fire in the A. M. Fitch chewing gum factory at No. 66 Pennsylvania avenue half a dozen firemen and as many policemen were hoisting an extension ladder when a live electric wire melted by the flames fell across the ladder. The firemen and policemen were hurled into the street by the shock, howling with pain. The loss on the fire was only $4,000.

Pennsylvania Coal Mine Fire.
Hazleton, Pa., Nov. 11.—The fire which broke out at the Lehigh Valley Sugar Loaf mine Saturday has gained considerable on the men fighting it, and there are grave fears now that it will be communicated to the old slope. There are 400 men now engaged fighting the flames.

NEW YORK'S SCHEME.

National Government to Aid Its Failing Commercial Importance.

New York, Nov. 9.—New York, having voted to borrow $3,000,000 to deepen the Erie canal, now hopes that the national government will appropriate money enough additional to convert the famous old ditch into a ship canal. The commercial importance of this city is on the back track. This has been demonstrated by the Commercial Bulletin and other organs of the mercantile and transportation interests during the last ninety days, and the construction of a ship canal which shall tap the great west and have New York for an eastern terminus is felt to be of vital importance to the city. This feeling of alarm for the future was the great moving force of the campaign for canal improvement. It set all the commercial bodies in the state to work and aroused a sentiment sufficiently powerful to overcome the lobby influences of the literary bureau created in the interest of the railroads. The railroads thought for a while they could muster force to kill the canal project, but they were obliged to acknowledge defeat long before the ballots went into the boxes.

TO KILL ALL CHRISTIANS.

Massacre to Begin as Soon as Europeans Occupy the Turkish Empire.

Worcester, Mass., Nov. 11.—The Huntchagists here, who are the leading Armenian revolutionists in America, have received advices from Harpoot that plans have been perfected by Raouf Pasha, the military commandant, for the massacre of every Christian in Harpoot and the villages of Moulla-Kauy and Hoghe.

The Turks and Kurds have been armed by the commandant, who will give the signal for the slaughter to begin as soon as Europeans make a move to occupy the country. It has caused great excitement among local Armenians and a mass-meeting is to be called and an attempt made to arouse public sympathy in the United States.

Calls a Meeting of Financiers.
Paris, Nov. 11.—M. Doumer, minister of finance, has seen several leading financiers and it is reported that he has called a meeting for to-day of representatives of the large houses holding credit accounts for the purpose of acting in concert, and planning measures to restore confidence at the bourse. The report of L'Intransigeant to the effect that the government is about to reopen the question of the Panama scandal, and that prominent members of parliament were to be prosecuted on this account, is authoritatively denied here.

Wool Growers Demand Protection.
San Angelo, Texas, Nov. 11.—The annual meeting of the Texas Wool Growers' Association was held here last night. Strong resolutions, declaring for a protective tariff on wool, were adopted unanimously. The president's address principally devoted itself to the advantages of a protective tariff.

TURKISH MINISTRY IS DOOMED

Scenes of Slaughter Every where in Minor—Danger Flies Up

Constantinople, Nov. 11.—The new ministry will probably last no longer than today. Rumors of changes that would precipitate the collapse of the cabinet are plentiful. Among them is the report that Hali Rifat Pasha, the grand vizier, will retire. The run on the Ottoman bank is now virtually ended. Its perfect stability is no longer questioned.

A British consul has just arrived here. He describes the whole country around Erzeroum and Trebizond as being completely devastated. Every Armenian town and village is in ruins. Heaps of unburied bodies are found everywhere.

A Turkish official states that the trouble originated at Erzeroum with an attack on the government house, caused by the torture of prisoners. Petroleum was freely used for the purpose of setting fire to the houses of the Armenians. The Armenian patriarchs intend to send a pastoral letter to the churches announcing the sultan's promised reforms and counseling patience on the part of all his followers.

As proof that the Armenian massacres are ordered from the Yildiz Kiosk, not necessarily with the sultan's knowledge, but by influential men of the palace party, anxious to discredit the administration of Kiamil Pasha, recently grand vizier, the instance of Diarbekir is worth citing.

Cambon, the French ambassador, after hearing of the two days' rioting at Diarbekir, threatened to hold Alexander dretta with the French squadron until the resignation of the governor had been brought about. Two hours after this threat reached the Yildiz Kiosk, Diarbekir was tranquil. This is an eloquent fact explaining the situation, and many smaller instances point the same way.

The diplomatic corps considers the lives of Christians endangered throughout all of the Asiatic provinces, but it is not believed that they are in any special danger at Constantinople, because the members of the palace clique are not likely to initiate any anti-Christian movements, and the members of the Mohammedan constitutional party advocate the adoption of a policy giving Christians a share in the government. The natural tendency, in consequence, is the coalition of the Mohammedan constitutional party with the Armenians, and, in fact, there are signs indicating that such a coalition would be likely to occur under circumstances in any degree favorable.

London, Nov. 11.—The Times in an editorial says that the Marquis of Salisbury's reference to Turkey in his address at the lord mayor's banquet Saturday was worthy of the best traditions of British statesmanship, but that he somewhat failed to appreciate the rapid movement of affairs in the far East.

The Vienna correspondent of the Telegraph says that news from Constantinople indicates that even the foreigners are in danger, and that the Central European powers have decided to employ energetic measures to defend the lives and the property of their subjects. The Telegraph editorially applauds Lord Salisbury's speech of Saturday last. It is argued that this speech may involve the deposition of the sultan.

NEWS FROM CUBA.

Prisoners Taken by Spanish Troops Are Treated as Belligerents.

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 11.—Passengers arriving from Cuba say Col. Rego, in an engagement eight days ago near Cumanayagua, Cienfuegos, captured sixteen prisoners. Rego notified the Spanish authorities to send for them. The authorities dispatched a committee consisting of Col. Valle, Capt. Rios, two lieutenants, a doctor and a priest, who received the prisoners from Rego and gave him formal receipts for them. Radical Spaniards are greatly displeased with Valle for treating with the insurgents and practically recognizing them as belligerents. They would rather see the prisoners die.

The force of Col. Molina had an engagement with Locreti's insurgent forces in Las Villas on Thursday. A passenger stated that the Spaniards who were in the engagement told him Molina and 150 Spaniards were killed, but the censored papers the next morning announced that but one officer and seven soldiers had been killed.

Alabama Democrats Split.
Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 11.—Joseph F. Johnston of Birmingham announces he will make the race for governor on a free silver Democratic platform.

"Sound money" Democrats say Oates will lead them. They claim that Oates must and will come to their rescue, as he expects them to work for him to succeed Pugh in the senate next fall. Johnston has the indorsement of Senators Pugh and Morgan and anti-administration Democrats, Oates that of the "sound money" and administration Democrats.

Lenz's Murderers Arrested.
Constantinople, Nov. 11.—Eleven Kurds, charged with the murder of Frank G. Lenz, of Pittsburg, Pa., who started to ride around the world on a bicycle and disappeared in Armenia, have been arrested and taken to Erzeroum, in order to be tried there in the presence of the British consul, in the absence of an American consul, their arrest being to a certain degree due to the search which William A. Sachslin made for the missing rider, who represented a New York publication.

BELOIT WILL HAVE A NEW MINISTER

NOTED BOSTON PASTOR ACCEPTS A CALL.

Rev. George W. Leavitt of The Hub, Will Come to the Line City to Take Charge of the First Congregational Pulpit. Word of His Acceptance Having Been Received Today.

Beloit, Wis., Nov. 11.—[Special]—Rev. George W. Leavitt, a noted Boston divine, has accepted the call to the First Congregational church of this city. His acceptance was received today.

SPANIARDS SEARCH A SHIP

American Captain Makes Complaint to the Authorities at Washington

New York, Nov. 11.—The American brig Harriet G. arrived at quarantine yesterday from Nuevitas, Cuba. The Harriet G. is owned by Mosle Bros. of this city, and trades regularly between New York and Nuevitas. She sailed from this port on August 29, last, and reached Nuevitas on September 1, where she discharged her cargo.

October 3 a Spanish officer with several soldiers boarded the brig and made a thorough search for a large quantity of arms which the Spanish officials had been informed were on board the vessel. The brig was ransacked from stem to stern, but no arms were found. The Spanish officer went so far as to demand that Captain Miller remove from below all his anchor chains. This the captain refused to do, and the officers were reluctantly forced to leave the vessel. The United States consul was on board at the time, but could do nothing. Captain Miller will report the facts of the search of his vessel to the proper authorities at Washington. There was on board the Harriet G. a young Cuban passenger named Gustava Torre, who said that he was so persecuted by the Spanish authorities that he was compelled to leave the island and come to the United States.

C. G. Veley, a Cuban, who has been in Spain on a mission in the interest of the insurgent cause, arrived in New York on the steamer Veendam. He said that he expects to lead an expedition to Cuba in the near future. His father, he said, is in Paris, where he is doing good work in the cause of Cuban independence. Mr. Veley gave it as his opinion that it is now too late for the Spanish government to offer concessions to the struggling Cubans, as the insurgents are in good condition and expect soon the consummation of their hopes in a Cuban republic.

BIG CONCERN IN TROUBLE.

New Hampshire Trust Company Facing Serious Difficulties.

Manchester, N. H., Nov. 11.—The state bank commission Saturday evening applied to the supreme court for a receiver for the New Hampshire Trust company. Their action was unknown to the officers, and it is asserted was taken in the interest of the creditors.

The company's liabilities in its trust department are $4,882,632.10, and in its savings department $272,187.14. It holds mortgages and liens on 1,000 parcels of land in the two Dakotas and in Minnesota, which at this time it is impossible to realize on. It also holds much valuable real estate hereabouts. Its last statement of assets shows $402,523.56 charged to profit and loss in the trust and $43,780.92 in the banking department. President Hiram Duplon emphatically asserts that the action of the commissioners is extremely discourteous, and he resents it. He thinks the company can pull through and says the directors will fight the court proceedings. No detailed statement of the condition of the company is obtainable.

Indiana Y. M. C. A.

Terre Haute, Ind. Nov. 11.—The closing day of the state convention of the Young Men's Christian association yesterday was devoted to services in the various Protestant churches, with a men's meeting in the afternoon. The pulpits were supplied by the visiting delegates. The special committee appointed at the convention a year ago to report a plan for raising an endowment fund for the state organization made a report, in which it is said that in view of success of local associations in renting buildings for office rooms and of the well-considered purpose of the Massachusetts association to erect a state building for the state organization on the same idea, that subscriptions be taken for the purchase of a suitable lot in Indianapolis on which, in due time, an office building may be erected, the rentals from which will supply the money for the support of the state organization.

Weekly Bank Statement.

New York, Nov. 11.—The weekly bank statement shows the following changes: Reserve, increase, $1,665,650; loans, decrease, $4,768,600; specie, increase, $210,500; legal-tenders, increase, $973,500; deposits, decrease, $926,600; circulation, decrease, $89,300. The banks now hold $19,260,050 in excess of the requirements of the 25 per cent rule.

Ezeta Makes an Explanation.

San Salvador, Nov. 11.—Gen. Carlos Ezeta has issued a circular denying the government's charges against him. He complains that it was unjust to confiscate his properties.

PASTOR THINKS 6,500 DON'T GO TO CHURCH

DR. HALSEY'S FIGURES ON
JANESVILLE WORSHIPPERS

He Discusses in a Sunday Evening Sermon the Reasons Some People Give Him for Not Attending Service—Week's Evangelical Services. Other Religious Notes.

There are 6,500 non-churchgoers in Janesville, Rev. Mr. Halsey says. He gets this figure by allowing 400 attendants to each of the twelve churches and then making a fair allowance for infants and the old and infirm. Sunday night he asked why non-attendance was so general and gave a few answers to his own question.

The answers were those made to him by non-attendants and were accompanied by running comment.

First of all the general explanation "depravity of the human heart" was rejected. The second cause "non-sociality of church members," was declared to be due to thoughtlessness if it ever existed.

"Your creeds are all too narrow," another man said.

"It is possible to spread out so broad that we should be too thin to do any good" was Mr. Halsey's answer to this.

"Sermons are all too old fashioned; when we get something new and sparkling and witty we will attend," was an objection frequently urged, although the man who never attended church and who depended for his arguments on boyhood recollections might not be quite the man to make such a plea.

Other Things Lack Novelty.

There might be truth in the argument at times, for any pastor who lived with his books instead of digging constantly in the mine of human nature, was liable to be dull. Still, as far as novelty was concerned, the same figures were being danced at parties that were danced thirty years ago, the same number of spots were on playing cards that were thirty years ago, and still nobody complained of the lack of novelty and freshness about these diversions. Applying the objection to churches alone didn't seem quite fair.

Dr. Halsey met two other objections by saying that the man who had worked hard six days and needed rest could find no greater rest than the chase and rest of worship, and that the matter of clothing could not be a bar in any Janesville church, for in none, so far as he knew, was there anything but the purest democracy in that respect.

Next Sunday night Dr. Halsey will give some of the answers he has received regarding the elements of a "Popular Religion."

The Y. M. C. A. Service.

The second Sunday meeting to be held in the new Y. M. C. A. building took place yesterday afternoon. An audience of one hundred and fifty young men listened to the stirring music and addresses, the leaders of the meeting being Dr. E. E. Loomis and S. M. Smith. The subject was "Consecrated Life in the Interests of Young Men" and "The Work." The young men all showed a great deal of interest and the meeting lasted twenty minutes longer than usual.

A week of evangelistic services begin at the First M. E. church today. Presiding Elder Pease and Rev. E. K. Manaton of Shopiere are assisting the pastor, Rev. Andrew Porter.

AT CUPID'S ALTAR THEY STOOD

Kaylor-Carter.

Miss Edna Carter and George W. Kaylor were quietly married on Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Carter, No. 9, Linden avenue, Rev. Dr. Sabin Halsey, pastor of Court street M. E. Church officiating. Only the immediate relatives were present and following the ceremony a tempting wedding repast was spread.

Both young people are well known in Janesville. The bride is an exceptionally popular young lady and has a wide circle of friends as the result of her sunny disposition and winning ways, while the groom is a young man of whom naught but good can be said. He is now employed in the blacksmithing department of the Janesville Machine Company's plant, and his popularity among his fellow workmen was shown by the handsome chamber suite that was numbered among the wedding gifts, as their token of esteem. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kaylor of Riverview Park. The young couple start out in life with the well wishes of all who know them.

WISCONSIN LEAF IN THE EAST

LECTURE ON AMERICAN POLITICS

First of the Series by Prof. Turner Will Be Given Tonight.

Prof. F. J. Turner of the State University will deliver the first lecture of the season in "The Half Century of American Politics" series at the new High School this evening, his subject being "The Era of Hamilton." The lecture will begin at 7:30 o'clock. The admission fee is small, and what ever profit is made on the course, will be given to the public library fund. The course is under the auspices of the Foranight club.

The Columbia Opera Company.

The Columbia Opera Company said to be one of the best organizations have decided, on account of the hard times and scarcity of money, to give theatre-goers the benefit of popular prices and in future will present high class comic opera. The organization remains as it was when last in Janesville and will hold the boards for three nights commencing Thursday with a Saturday matinee. The company as usual will open in "Said Pasha" and follow "Bohemian Girl," "Black Hussar" and "Mikado." As the organization recently appeared at dollar prices and gave excellent satisfaction the house will probably be filled to overflowing during the engagement and standing room command a premium.

Winter Suits That Fit.

Pickwicks are made on artistic lines especially for the "hard to fit" people who have always thought it necessary to pay high prices to custom tailors. If you are unusual tall, or unusually long in the arm, or have very sloping shoulders or are generous as to girth, then Pickwick suits will just hit you. No custom tailor can fit you better, few can do as well, and the saving is 50 per cent. T. J. Zeigler.

Solomon

Was a wise man but his knowledge was limited to his day. He never saw a bicycle girl or the new woman, the women of his household never knew what perfect fitting shoes we have for the women of today. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

Until Tuesday.

From now until Tuesday night only, shoes in this house go at 75 cents. After Tuesday the shoes will be closed out. No more shoes will be sold, so you had better lay in your stock if you haven't already done so. F. S. Winslow.

This Man Is an Artist.

Our shoe repairer is an artist. If your shoes are out in any way bring them to us. We will repair them for you better than you think they can be done, whether we sold them to you or not. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

Its Large.

We are now showing the largest line of fancy china in the city. We just received a large invoice yesterday of fancy pieces for 10, 15, 25, 35, 75 cents and $1. A great assortment of everything. Lowell's Annex.

Men's Underwear

Another invoice of men's underwear came yesterday. We can fit any sized person for little money. Lowell's Annex.

Stoves Again.

We have one extra large base burner Garland stove second hand, which we ask only $15.00 for. Also three Stewart heaters $5.00 each. Lowell Hardware Co.

Come to the sheet music sale this evening.

NEW CHECK SYSTEM IS SATISFACTORY

C. & N. W. MEN LIKE THE NEW ARRANGEMENT.

No Extra Expense to Them and They Are Not Inconvenienced in Getting the Cash—St. Paul's Phenomenal Earnings Last Month—New "Minute Engines" Nearly Ready—

The new system of paying salaries by check on the Northwestern road has now been thoroughly tried in this city, and has proved a success in every way.

"We have had very little trouble," remarked a local official, "although in some cases where the checks were offered merchants, they refused them, the persons not being personally known to them."

The company have recently issued a circular giving a list of the different banks in the different cities in Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Michigan and South Dakota. The arrangements are entirely voluntary on the part of the banks, no charges having been made whatever for services.

St. Paul's Big Earnings.

The local representatives of the St. Paul road are more than pleased with an unofficial statement of the earnings of the road for the month of October, which statement was made in Milwaukee. It is said that the earnings for last month were nearly $4,000,000 which was only exceeded during the great season of 1892 when local roads could not handle the freight. Both the Northwestern and the St. Paul roads are at present rushed with work, and large shipments of stock, iron and grain are daily arriving in the city from the northwest on the way to Chicago and the east.

New Engines Here December 1.

The new passenger engines will be in service on the St. Paul limited and the 6:25 express in three weeks, railroad men say. There will be three running out of the Janesville round house, and other fast engines—the World's Fair Schenectady—will be brought here from the Milwaukee division.

The engines that are being built for the through runs are the finest ever put on rails. The weight of the engines without tender is fifty-seven tons. Its four driving wheels are each sixty-eight inches in diameter and the cylinders of the engine are 18x24 inches. A steam pressure of 180 pounds is carried.

On a good track an average of sixty-five miles an hour could be kept up all day, and that for short distances on a straight, level track or slightly down grade, had gone at the rate of eighty miles an hour. It is predicted by railroad men that traveling at the rate of a mile a minute will become only ordinary speed.

The prices are within reach of all. Richardson Shoe Co.

CHOLERA AN EXPENSIVE DISEASE

Farmers in La Prairie Alone Are Out $25,000 By It.

People have but little idea of what hog cholera means to the farmers. In La Prairie alone, it is estimated by a man who is well posted, that the disease has cost $25,000. If this is true of one township, the loss in the county must be enormous.

The disease takes strange turns. For instance, J. L. Bear's herd has escaped while many of his neighbors lost their whole flocks.

G. A. Proctor has also been very fortunate. The farmers on all sides of the Proctor farm, have lost hogs by the dozens but so far his large flock has escaped. He gives them very little corn, he says, and has them turned out in a thirty-five acre lot so that they can eat grass and hunt a living which continually keeps them moving. This he thinks is "the cure."

TO ASK FOR METCALF'S PARDON

Has Served Half His Sentence For Killing "Aunt Isabelle."

An effort is being made by ex sheriff George Babcock of Clinton and Attorney John Winans to get a pardon for John Metcalf who is now serving a sentence in the state's prison for the murder of "Aunt Isabelle," an aged Norwegian lady in Edgerton six years ago. About half of the sentence has now been served by Metcalf. Mr. Babcock said quite a number of Edgerton people signified their willingness to join in the petition for the pardon. Mr. Winans is acting as an attorney for Metcalf and was his counsel when sentenced.

NEW KENT BLOCK TO UP AT ONCE

If Weather Will Permit It Will Be Built This Fall

A. O. Kent's second new building, at the corner of Court and Park streets, will be built this fall if the weather will permit. The old building has been torn down and the work on the foundation will begin at once. As much as is possible will be done this fall, and perhaps the whole building will be completed. Nowlan & Peters, who are building the block at the corner of Court and Main streets, have the contract.

SEE THE GREAT FOOTBALL GAME

COL. SMITH'S WAR SONG LECTURE

Many Janesville Friends Will Be Glad of the Opportunity to Hear It.

Col. Nicholas Smith is known throughout the country for his lecture on "Songs of War and Patriotism." His Janesville friends will welcome the chance to hear it at Court Street church Friday evening.

Wherever Colonel Smith has spoken the most enthusiastic endorsement has followed. In this city a special musical programme has been added, in charge of E. O. Kimberly.

Cotton States and International Exposition at Atlanta, Ga.

For the above event the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway will sell excursion tickets from Sept 15 to Dec. 31, 1895, good for return until and including Jan. 7, 1896. The rate of round trip will be 75 per cent. of double lowest first class fare.

It is a truth in medicine that the smallest dose that performs a cure is the best. Dr. Witt's Little Early Risers are the smallest pills, will perform a cure, and are the best. C. D. Stevens.

Winter Tourist Rates Via the Northwestern Line.

The North-Western Line is now selling excursion tickets at greatly reduced rates to the health and pleasure resorts of California, Florida, Texas, Mexico, New Mexico, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Alabama. ## COUNTY BOARD MEETS TOMORROW

Little Business of Importance Will Come Up in All Probability.

Rock County's legislature will convene in annual session at the court house tomorrow. Members say that but little business of importance will come before the meeting other than the usual routine of allowing of claims, equalizing the assessments, etc. However over $1300 of claims have been filed for the treatment of Keeley graduates sent out from this county under the new law to be paid for at public expense.

Several committees have been in session and fixed up their reports, etc., for presentation. The finance committee, composed of C. C. MacLean, Alex. White, and L. W. Kendall, have completed their work, as have also the committee on General Claims and Examination of Insane—Simon Smith, A. C. Powers and P. C. Wilder; and the committee on Claims of Sheriffs, Constables, Justices, Clerks of Venue and Post Mortem Examinations—Robert More, H. A. Egerton and H. W. Conley.

BEAR AND BABY STORY.

It is an Old-Fashioned Theme, but the Facts Make It Worth Telling.

Mrs. Samuel Gibbons, of Clarksburg, while picking berries with her two small children and two ten-year-old nieces last Friday, had an exciting adventure. Mrs. Gibbons and the children had gone up the old Eliza Keatchum road, which is unused and partially overgrown, and they were picking raspberries. Mrs. Gibbons had left her 18-months-old boy with her 6-year-old daughter Stella in the shade of a thicket beside a spring, and she, with her nieces, Reda and Fannie Gibbons, was busily engaged a short distance down the road, when little Stella came running down crying and screaming: "Baby's crying, and there's an awful noise in the bushes, and it is a big black thing." The mother was acquainted with backwood districts, and she knew it was a bear with cubs, and the baby crying the chances of the little one's escaping were small indeed. The mother's heart was faint, and she told her nieces she couldn't bear the sight of her mangled child in the bear's jaws.

Little Reda started toward the baby first and said: "I'll get baby some way." Then the mother and the little children bravely hurried up the road. On coming to the spot where the baby lay the mother screamed, and that scream was heard by her husband, who was haying in the valley a mile and a half away.

The sight she saw was enough to madden any mother, for through that thicket came a bear, growling and showing no signs of fear. Reda darted ahead, grabbed the baby, and placed him in his mother's arms. They then ran, the children clinging to the mother's skirts and the mother clasping the crying baby closely to her breast. And they did not stop until they reached the back road, fully three-quarters of a mile distant. There they met Mr. Gibbons, who had heard the screaming and was hurrying toward them from the hay field.

This is the story that a Transcript representative gained in an interview with the mother and their children at their home.

It is believed two cubs were with the bear, for large and small bear tracks were seen in and about this thicket Sunday, when an unsuccessful hunt was made for bruin. Mrs. Gibbons said she met an aged and thicket man Saturday, who said he had seen a bear and two cubs on the mountain that day. There is much talk in Clarksburg of a grand bear hunt.

Was a Big Johnny Cake.

At an Oakland, Ill., barbecue recently twenty sheep, ten hogs, two fat steers, 700 loaves of bread and the usual fried chickens, pickles, fried cakes and other "fixins" were provided for the 50,000 people present. One of the old-timers there said that the Johnny cake reminded him of one that was baked at a barbecue in Hamilton, Ohio, during the presidential campaign of 1840. This cake, he said, was 26 feet long and two feet wide. It was cut in twenty-six pieces, one for each of the twenty-six states, and required four men to turn it. A Johnny cake twice as big as that would be required to supply the union now.

Notice to Hunters.

Hunters will please take notice that we carry a complete line of hip and hunting rubber boots. We invite your patronage. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

Physicians Have Found Out

That a contaminating and foreign element in the blood, developed by indigestion, is the cause of rheumatism. This settles upon the sensitive sub-cutaneous covering of the muscles and ligaments of the joints, causing constant and shifting pain, and aggregating as a colorous, chalky deposit, which produces stiffness and distortion of the joints. No fact which experience has demonstrated in regard to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has stronger evidence to support than this, namely that this medicine of comprehensive uses checks the formidable and atrocious disease or is it less positively established than it is preferable to the poisons often used to arrest it, since the medicine contains only salutary ingredients. It is also a signal remedy for malarial fevers, constipation, dyspepsia, kidney and bladder ailments, debility and other disorders. See that you get the genuine.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1620—The Mayflower compact signed in Cape Cod harbor. The voyagers before landing signed a compact under which they became, as a body politic, subject "to such government and governors as shall by common consent be chosen." The first chartered corporation was established in 1623, upon the arrival of Governor Endicott.

1783—John Abercrombie, the most eminent Scotch physician and medical author of his time, born at Aberdeen; died 1844.

1806—State serfs emancipated in Poland. The Polish peasantry were enslaved by the nobles, though never as chattel slaves, and among the causes of the fall of Poland was the serfdom that there existed. After the last partition the condition of the Polish peasants underwent various modifications under the Prussian, Austrian and Russian governments, until emancipation, at different periods, was decreed in each division.

1880—Lucetta Mott, American reformer and philanthropist, died near Philadelphia; born 1793.

1886—Paul Bert, distinguished French savant, died at Ham, France; born 1833.

1893—Charles H. Bell, ex-governor of New Hampshire, died at Exeter, N. H.; born 1823.

Increased Taxes for Beer and Wool.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Ex-Speaker Reed is said by those who claim to be in his confidence here to be opposed to any general tariff legislation. His plan embraces an increase of the tax on beer to double the present amount, also the imposition of taxes on proprietary medicines and similar goods. Senator Carter of Montana has openly proclaimed himself in favor of a duty on wool. He will be supported in his effort to restore the wool duty by Senator Sherman and most of the republicans from the western states. The populist senators will also vote for a duty on wool.

Big Industry for Sioux City.

Sioux City, Iowa, Nov. 11.—Sioux City has practically secured next to the largest glucose factory in the world. C. Anson Potter, of New York, representing eastern capitalists, signed an agreement last night to put in a $1,000,000 plant if $75,000 bonus was raised at a meeting of business men Saturday night, and the rest will be easily secured. The plant will employ 600 men and use 15,000 bushels of corn daily. New York's big glucose factory will be the only one in the world larger than the factory here.

Black Diphtheria in Colorado.

Julesburg, Colo., Nov. 11.—The city council has placed guards along the north line leading into Colorado from Nebraska, as black diphtheria is now spreading in that part of the state. The country schools have nearly all been closed, and the public schools will be closed today. Many of the people are greatly excited over the coming of the dreaded disease, and everything possible is being done to prevent its spreading.

Negro Hanged by a Mob.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 11.—Lewis Jefferson, the negro who attempted a criminal assault on little Miss Wilson Frobet last Thursday night, after being pursued by a posse, was captured and placed in jail at Homersville, Ga. He made a full confession. While he was being taken before the magistrate at Argyle for a committal trial yesterday the sheriff was overpowered, the prisoner taken away and hanged.

YOU ALL KNOW IT.

THE SHIRT MY FATHER WORE.

[From the Chronicle.]
 My father bought an undershirt
 Of bright and flaming red—
 "All-wool," I'm ready to assert,
 "Fleece dyed," the merchant said.
 "Your size is thirty-eight, I think,
 And forty you should get.
 Since all wool goods are bound to shrink
 A trifle when they're wet."

That shirt two weeks my father wore—
 Two washings, that was all—
 From forty down to thirty-four
 It shrank like eat in fall.
 I wore it then a day or two,
 But when 'twas washed 'gain
 My wife said: "Now 'twill only do
 For little brother Ben."

A fortnight Ben squeezed into it
 At last he said it hurt—
 We put it on our babe—the fit
 Was good as any shirt
 We ne'er will wash it more while yet
 We see its flickering light,
 For if again that shirt is wet
 'Twill vanish from our sight.

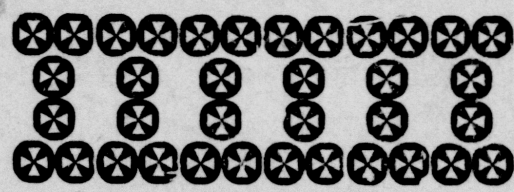

We are agents for the JAROS. Cannot shrink. Fits like a glove. You can get along without an overcoat. You can keep well without Jaros Hygienic Underwear, but it isn't so easy.

HE DOES NOT STEAL THE NAME HE BEARS

REV. V. E. SOUTHWORTH AND OTHER CHURCHES.

His Sunday Sermon Bears Upon the Right of All Souls to Be Known As a Christian Church—Creed Put Before Christ By Many People.

"I plead not guilty. 'The accusation is that when I call myself 'christian' I 'steal' the name. It is said that this is not a 'christian' church and I am not a 'christian' minister, and we do not proclaim a 'christian' gospel."

"These charges have recently been preferred against us by distinguished local representatives of the christian church."

With these words Rev. Victor E. Southworth began his sermon in All Souls church Sunday morning.

Mr. Southworth proceeded to examine the meaning of the word christian, and the right of various sects to the title. A christian, he insisted, was none other than one over whose life the teachings of Christ have a direct and personal influence. It was not enough he insisted to know Christ as reflected, modified and either idealized or corrupted in the teachings of some third party. Thus a man might be a thoroughgoing Calvinist, might yield his intellectual assent fully to the teachings of Calvin without ever feeling the power and beauty of Jesus life.

Creed Before Christ.

So with Wesleyism—a man could give over his life into the service of the church of John Wesley—might say Wesley is right—and never realize or know the direct and personal control of the carpenter's divine son.

"Here is the secret of the cruel, wasteful and unchristian dismemberment of the church," said Mr. Southworth. "People have come to care for Jesus only at second hand. Lutherans want Jesus as Luther represented him to be. Calvinists want Jesus as Calvin represented him to be. Popists want Jesus as the popes have represented him to be. Episcopalians want Jesus as he is represented to be by the Thirty nine articles and the Prayer Book."

What the churches demand, Mr. Southworth insisted, is not belief in Jesus but assent to doctrines about Jesus. He defined the christianity of All Souls church as the love and worship of Jesus and the submission to his teachings; but said that such belief did not involve hatred or indifference for such men as Buddha and Channing and Phillip Brooks.

Mr. Southworth's sermon will appear in full in these columns in our special Thanksgiving issue.

STRONG IS MISSING AND FOR NO CAUSE

THE JANESVILLE MERCHANT
DROPS FROM VIEW.

He Was the Proprietor of a Butter, Cheese and Egg Store On West Milwaukee Street and Has a Family at Fort Atkinson—Last Seen Wednesday Morning.

E. R. Strong, proprietor of a butter, cheese and egg business on West Milwaukee street, has disappeared, and his friends are much alarmed at his absence.

Mr. Strong's home is at Fort Atkinson, although his business is here. He has not been seen since 3 o'clock Wednesday morning. At first his friends were not concerned, thinking he had gone to Juda, where he has a creamery. When it was found that he was not there, they began to fear that something had befallen him. N. M. Hopkins, of Fort Atkinson, was in town in search of Mr. Strong, whose family reside in that city. He said that no cause for his disappearance was known, and that his family and friends were at a loss to account for it.

The missing man is described as being dark complexioned, 5 feet, six inches tall, light build but with square shoulders, full jet black beard, closely cropped, weight 130 to 140 pounds and aged about 40 years. Any person who can give information concerning his whereabouts should notify Chief of Police Acheson of this city or N. M. Hopkins of Fort Atkinson.

The last time Mr. Strong was seen was at the Grand Hotel early Wednesday morning, when he was anxiously waiting to hear election returns from Chicago. At that time Clerk Orville Morse had some conversation with Strong and says the latter left the hotel at the hour mentioned.

Later it was learned that he had been in Chicago, but up to 4 o'clock this afternoon, he had not yet returned home.

RAIN DIDN'T AFFECT MACADAM

"New Process Streets" Stood the Storm Without Showing Injury

Many people have been waiting to see what effect the first hard rain would have upon the new macadamized street but Street Commissioner Watson is safe in saying that they have been a success in every way. Both the Pleasant street and Franklin street pavements stood the recent rain well.

James Dunphy, 254 South Franklin street fell through an open trap door in the kitchen landing on the cellar floor and received minor injuries that were dressed by Dr. George W. Chittenden.

They Came Handy.

Uncle (to disreputable nephew)—You have got to be no better than a common beggar. Hardly a day passes that you don't come to me and borrow money. Thank heaven, you are my only nephew, and I wish I didn't have you.

Nephew—I am a better man, uncle, than you are. So far from wishing you dead, I wish I had five or six more such uncles.—Texas Siftings.

Pounds—and Pounds.

Grocer (to new boy)—See, now, if you can lift this fifty-pound bag of flour.

New Boy—No, sir, I can't.

Grocer—Thought you said you could carry fifty pounds?

New Boy—But this wasn't weighed on your scales.—Chicago Record.

Costly Education.

Mrs. Nurich—You can't think, Brother Caleb, what an expense it's been to us, learning Amelia to play the pianer.

Brother Caleb (dolefully)—It can't compare with what I had to pay out when George was learning to play the races. And he didn't learn much, either.—Puck.

Just Like a Man.

Mrs. Fozzleton—George, to-morrow is mommer's birthday, and I think we ought to give her something. You must remember she has been with us ten weeks now.

Fozzleton—Yes; let us give her a send off.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The Circumstances.

Miss Amy—Of course you are familiar with Longfellow's poem, "To Stay at Home Is Best."

Dolly—Yes, Miss Amy, and I think he must have written it just after returning from a summer outing.—Tammany Times.

Very Glaring Mark.

Hotel Porter—There's no danger, sir—better keep your head in, sir.

Frightened Guest—Why?

Porter—It's so red, sir, I'm afraid the firemen'll turn the hose on it, sir.—Chicago Record.

IN A DOUBLE GRAVE THEY LIE AT REST

THE FUNERAL OF MR. AND MRS. EDWARD LAY.

Solemn High Mass Was Sung and the Funeral Was the Largest Ever Seen In Janesville, One Hundred and Forty-Four Carriages Following the Two Hearses.

In a double grave at Mount Olivet cemetery, the remains of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lay, the victims of Friday night's street car accident, were laid this morning.

The sad services were held at the St. Patrick's church at 11 o'clock, the impressive stolen high mass being sung with Rev. Father Harlan of Edgerton as celebrant, Rev. Father Collins as deacon and Rev. Father Norton subdeacon. The funeral party left the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lay in the town of Center at 9 o'clock arriving here at 11. There were one hundred and ten vehicles in line when they arrived and it was the most imposing funeral procession ever seen in this city. Nearly fifty more joined the procession here and when the cortege left the church, one hundred and forty four carriages followed the two hearses. St. Patrick's church was crowded to the doors by sympathizing friends and neighbors of the mourners who listened to Dean McGinty's touching sermon.

The funeral was a double one. Two hearses were used, and there were two sets of pall bearers. One casket was carried by Edward Donahue, Lawrence Crane, Dennis Conway, James McCarthy, V. Pound and Cornelius Hayes, while the bearers of the other were John Collins, John Kennedy, Edward Farrington, Andrew Ellison, J. Kennedy and Daniel Ryan.

HASTE NOT, REST NOT.

Without haste! Without rest!
Find the motto to thy heart!
Bear it with thee as a spell,
Storm or sunshine, guard it well!
Heed not flowers that round thee bloom,
Bear it onward to the tomb!

Haste not! Let no thoughtless deed
Mar for aye the spirit's speed!
Ponder well, and know the right,
Onward, then, with all thy might!
Haste not! Years can never atone
For one reckless action done.

Rest not! Life is sweeping by!
Go and dare before you die.
Something mighty and sublime
Leave behind to conquer time!
Glorious 'tis to live for aye
When these forms have passed away.

Haste not! Rest not! Calmly wait;
Meekly bear the storm of fate;
Duty be thy polar guide—
Do the right whate'er betide!
Haste not! Rest not! Conflicts past,
God shall crown thy work at last.

A DAY OF MARTYRDOM

The colonel and the young reporter were sipping their respective portions of a cold bottle of beer and listening to the whirr of an electric fan the other night when the colonel grew reminiscent.

"Away before the war," remarked the colonel musingly, "when I was just sporting my first whisker—a spindle shanked, truant playing product of the coffee east—my father sent me out into southwest Missouri to get braced up. I don't know what was the matter with me, but I was all run down, and my father was convinced that a season on the Missouri farm of my uncle would prove beneficial alike to my mind and body. I might say before going farther that it did."

"I bade my mother a sorrowful goodbye, away back in New York city, and in due course of time I landed on the farm of my uncle. It was a revelation. The verdure clad hills, the breezes smelling spicy and sweet, the cold water from the well, wholesome food in large quantities, horses to ride and a lovely pool to go swimming in made a new boy of me in a week. Barring the fact that I was compelled to retire with the rest of the family at 9 o'clock at night and get up at an hour in the morning when the dew on the grass felt to my bare feet like ice water, that farm was heaven. It was two heavens when I got acquainted with Melvina Drake."

"Melvina Drake was about the fourteenth child of a farmer living about two miles nearer town than my uncle. Her father, Solomon Drake, was the poorest man in the county. He was poorer than watered buttermilk, but the nicest, mildest mannered old man you ever saw. His wife was a skinny, sal-low, God forsaken looking, overworked woman, with no pleasure in store for her but death. Both were hardworking and honest, but they had some kind of a hoodoo on them. They were old residents in that part of the country, and their ancestors had been there before them, but as far back as the memory of man could extend the Drakes had always been poor—as my uncle said, 'poor as shucks.' About all the Drakes seemed fitted for was increasing the population and getting hold of horses that couldn't draw anything but flies."

"As I was saying, Melvina was about the fourteenth of the Drake brood, and she was a dream. I guess she was about 16 years, big and sweet and healthy. Her cheeks were as rosy and clear as a Missouri apple, and her eyes were big and blue. And she was so doggone innocent that I hope I may die if it didn't use to embarrass me like thunder."

"Consequences was, I got 'mashed' on Melvina, hard 'mashed.' I don't believe a stronger case of calf love ever developed in this whole state of Missouri. If I saw one of my cousins or any other boy talking to her, I would go to some secluded spot and cry and butt my soft noddle against a tree. At night I used to lie awake and dream myself a hero. I used to imagine Melvina tearing down the road on a fiery steed, with certain death staring her in the face, and me coming up unexpectedly, stopping the horse and rescuing her, sustaining in the operation a broken leg and sundry other bruises. Then I'd imagine Melvina nursing me back to life, and finally marrying me. My head was full of such stuff."

"One day, along in June, there came out our way a wagon loaded with circus bills, pastepots and bill stickers, and they slathered the countryside with signs announcing that the great Egyptian-African Circus and Menageries was to show in town on the Fourth of July. When I left home, my father gave me $10, and I had most of it left. I made up my mind that I would take Melvina to the circus, and directly my dreams at night took the form of a monster lion rushing at her with open mouth and me engaging the lion just as he was about to grab her, and choking him to death with one hand."

"The next time I saw Melvina—I used to see her every day; in fact, I came pretty near being with her all the time—I asked her if she'd go to the circus. I thought she'd faint. Her eyes opened wide, and so did her mouth, and astonishment was engraved on every line of her countenance. She was so overcome with joy that she just sat down and cried. I sat down, too, and that was the first time I ever kissed her."

"Young man, that kiss is a sacred memory with me. I have experienced a good many sensations in my time, but the sensation of kissing a handsome, hexon southwest Missouri girl right square on the soft, sweet lips, while the tears from her heavenly eyes are running down and making pearly drops on your budding mustache, is something better than all of them put together."

"And when, like Melvina, she puts her brown, bare arms around your neck and kisses back—one of those long, clinging kisses that Ella Wheeler Wilcox writes about—words are superfluous. But I have often wondered, since I have become calloused and cynical, where Melvina learned to kiss. She was a revelation to me."

"Finally the glorious Fourth came around, and I got ready for the circus. I might explain here that I had brought a suit of store clothes and a pair of shoes from the east with me, but I had never worn the clothes on the farm and seldom wore the shoes. Everybody down in that section went barefooted, boys and men, and I did as the Romans did. This Fourth of July morning I put on a 'biled shirt,' my 'store clothes,' my shoes and socks, and I brushed and cleaned myself until I was positively uncomfortable."

"After breakfast, followed by the good natured but cutting 'joshing' of my relatives, I started down the road to meet Melvina. I had arranged with her to walk to town, figuring on the walk back in the moonlight, when we could 'hold hands' as we strolled along the road and slobber over each other. My uncle wanted us to go in the wagon with him and his family, but I was too wise."

"It was two miles to the Drake cabin and four miles to town. I was to meet Melvina at the turn in the road just below her father's house. The sun was about two hours high and cast long shadows on the ground as I trudged along to the trysting place."

"I remember I took out my barlow and cut a stout stick from a hedge along the roadside in anticipation of a possible brush with the lion. The air was heavy with the sweet smell of orchards, ripening grain and new mown hay, and I was the happiest youth in Missouri. I made up my mind I was going to spend every cent I possessed on Melvina."

"Directly I came to where she was. She had on a dress that couldn't have cost more than a quarter, but she looked like a queen in it, although, I must confess, it fit her like it was cut out with a pair of skates. A wide brimmed hat sat jauntily on her brown curls and her face looked like a ripe peach to a hungry man. I noticed she had no shoes on, but that cut no ice with me, for she had as pretty a foot and ankle as anybody would want to look at."

"I had calculated on making a hit with Melvina with my store clothes, and I did. I paralyzed her. She just stood and looked at me while wave after wave of hot blushes chased up her white neck and congregated in her face. I stood simpering like a prize idiot. She began to cry and wouldn't tell me what was the matter with her, and I, wise in the ignorance of youth, didn't know that, like all women, she was proud and ashamed to be seen with me because of the splendor of my raiment. I jollied her along, told her how nice and sweet she looked, swore she would be the belle of the circus and was generally so lavish in my praise of her that she consented finally to go with me if I'd let her go home and fix up a bit. Still I didn't know what was the matter, but I let her go."

"I lay down in the shade of a tree on the grass to wait for her. The sun climbed higher, and wagons loaded with country people rattled by on the way to the circus. I had just figured out that we would miss the parade and grand free exhibition outside the big tent if Melvina didn't hurry, when she hove in view. I looked at her a second and then jumped in the air so suddenly I jarred myself. If my raiment had paralyzed Melvina, she got even all right."

"She had placed a cheap ribbon around her neck and spoiled the beauty of it and had covered her pretty feet with a pair of shapeless, hard, heavy, cowhide shoes. Between the tops of her shoes and the bottom of her dress appeared occasional glimpses of a pair of stockings of the variety known as barber pole. They were striped red and yellow, and the stripes were wide. But she had something else on that knocked me speechless."

"Years and years had this crowning feature of Melvina's attire been in the Drake family. It was an heirloom, I guess, and the only piece of finery the family possessed. Melvina, blushing and simpering, hardly knowing whether I would sufficiently admire it or not, was wearing it regulation fashion. It was an old fashioned muff, of some heavy black fur and as big as a bass drum."

"Perspiration broke out of every pore in my body. The idea of me, togged out in 'store clothes' and looking like a dude, going to a circus on the Fourth of July with a girl carrying a muff that must have warmed an icehouse was maddening. But Melvina looked so thoroughly self satisfied that I hadn't the heart to tell her that the sweet simplicity of dress she wore when she first met me was more becoming by far than the big cowhide boots and the muff. So I made the best of it and let it go."

"I am an old man now, but the memory of the attention I created in that little country town that day is as vivid in my mind as is the fact that I just paid for the last drink. The circus wasn't in it. A number of times I was tempted to run away, miles and miles, but Melvina was having such a good time that I looked pleasant and stood it. She never took her hands out of that muff all day, only to eat and drink, and several times she asked me to hold it for her while she fixed up her hair or tied her shoe or something."

"One time, while I was holding the muff, I lost her for a few minutes in the crowd, and I endured more agony until I found her again than I did when I got shot through the leg in the war. We walked home in the moonlight all right, but we didn't 'hold hands,' partly because Melvina had her hands in the muff and partly because I was so doc blamed mad at her that I could have slapped her. They made it so hot for me when I got home to my uncle's with their remarks about Melvina's muff that I started home the next day. I don't know whatever became of Melvina Drake, but I do know that I suffered one day, for her sake, the keenest martyrdom."—St. Louis Republic.

BEAUTY IS POWER.

Perfection of Form, Feature, and Mind
Render Women All-powerful.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Yet blended with those perfections must be perfect health. Women are today stronger in their character, better in their nature, truer in their love, warmer in their affections, than they ever were.

But most women do not know themselves; and often when their influence is doing the most good, break down. They drift gradually and unconsciously into that tempestuous sea of woman's diseases. Then they should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restores natural cheerfulness, destroys despondency, cures leucorrhoea, — the great forerunner of serious womb trouble, — relieves backache, strengthens the muscles of the womb, and restores it to its normal condition, regulates menstruations, removes inflammation, ulceration, and tumors of the womb, etc.

It is a remedy of a woman for women. Millions of women owe the health they enjoy, and the influence they exert, to Mrs. Pinkham; and the success of her Vegetable Compound has never been equalled in the field of medicine for the relief and cure of all kinds of female complaints. So say the druggists.

Here is another one of thousands who speaks that others may know the truth:—
"For five years I suffered with falling of the womb, and all the dreadful aches and pains that accompany the disease. I tried several doctors and different medicines, until I lost all faith in everything. I had not tried your Compound. I watched your advertisements from day to day, and each day became more hopeful."

At last I resolved to try it. I have taken seven bottles, and have gained forty pounds. My pains have all left me, and I am a well woman. I do all my own work, and can walk two miles without feeling tired. Your Compound has been worth its weight in gold to me. I cannot praise it enough." MATILDA EHMAN, Columbia, Lancaster Co., Pa.

"I am an old man now, but the memory of the attention I created in that little country town that day is as vivid in my mind as is the fact that I just paid for the last drink. The circus wasn't in it. A number of times I was tempted to run away, miles and miles, but Melvina was having such a good time that I looked pleasant and stood it. She never took her hands out of that muff all day, only to eat and drink, and several times she asked me to hold it for her while she fixed up her hair or tied her shoe or something."

"One time, while I was holding the muff, I lost her for a few minutes in the crowd, and I endured more agony until I found her again than I did when I got shot through the leg in the war. We walked home in the moonlight all right, but we didn't 'hold hands,' partly because Melvina had her hands in the muff and partly because I was so doc blamed mad at her that I could have slapped her. ## Overdoing It.

"Dear one," he whispered, "do you think if I married you your father would ever forgive us?"

"I'm sure he would, dear," she asserted, softly.

"And would he give us a house of our own?"

"I know he would, dearest."

"And would he give us enough to live beautifully on?"

"I'm sure of it, Harry."

"And would he take me into the firm?"

"Certainly he would."

"And let me run the business to suit myself?"

THE ONE QUESTION.

Are the Cubans Capable of Governing Themselves as a Republic?

Pittsburgh Times: The Cubans are extremely anxious to obtain from the United States a recognition of their belligerent rights, believing, and possibly correctly, that under this recognition their independence would be secured. Under it they could buy arms and munitions of war in the United States, or their friends could ship them to them. They would have liberty of trade, and while they would not have liberty to enlist men for their armies, they would have the next thing to it. The barrier against recruiting would be practically broken down. It would be an easy matter to send recruits to Cuba as nominally the crews of merchant ships. Under a grant of belligerent rights there is no doubt that this would be winked at. More than that could not be permitted without laying ourselves open to the charge of furnishing men to fight a nation with whom we are at peace. But that would be enough. In the event of it, adventurers would flock to Cuba in hope of gold and glory. With such assistance the rebels it might be a question if the Spaniards could hold their own in the island long.

The grant of belligerency is always a delicate matter, for it is always regarded as an evidence of hostility. In the event of it Spain would be convinced that when the moment came we would go farther in the interest of her rebels. That is one reason why the grant is refused. Another is that it might serve merely to encourage rebellion; that is, the Cubans might be conquered in spite of it. No nation likes to take the risk of recognizing a rebellion which does not give satisfactory proof that it will end in independence, for every nation which does that expects when independence is established, a return of the favor in the shape of trade or other privileges. This is not the first rebellion in Cuba. There have been others which gave more promise of success than this one does.

Add that the authorities at Washington have their doubts of the ability of the Cubans to carry on an independent government if they had one, or at least such a government as would be worth helping to create. If the Cuban people had had different training, or if they were of one blood, it is safe to say that the authorities at Washington would be more disposed to stretch a point in their favor. The parallel between France at the outbreak of the American Revolution and the United States now, as drawn by a representative of the Cubans, is greatly misleading, for France then had her revenge to wreak upon England through her revolted colonies, while we have none to wreak upon Spain, and as the comparative fitness of the Americans for self-rule then and the Cubans now, the less said the kinder. It is a mistake to suppose that this country is opposed to liberty in refusing to grant them belligerent rights. It is opposed to involving itself in complications with Spain without reasonable certainty that the resulting good will justify it.

BACHELORS' HALL TO DATE.

One Refused to Do Washing and Then Shot His Brother.

Philip Boehm and his brother Adam, both bachelors, kept house together at 66 Grace street, Jersey City, says the New York World. Adam is thirty-five years old and Philip is thirty. Philip was willing to spend money; Adam never spent a cent without sighing. On last Monday it was Philip's turn to do the family washing. He suggested that they should engage a washerwoman. Adam said "no," and to teach Philip a lesson put his food and clothes in a closet and kept the key. All through Monday the quarrel continued. The crisis came yesterday, when Philip tried to break open the closet door. Adam seized a club; Philip drew a revolver and fired. Adam groaned and fell over with a bullet in his abdomen. Philip then surrendered himself to the police and Adam was taken to the city hospital. The doctors think he will die.

A Very Wise Connecticut Cat.

Why even the cats of Connecticut should be more ingenious than ordinary ones, we cannot say; but this item indicates great ingenuity on the part either of the cat or of the man who told the story. William Gilen, of New London, threw some lobster meat to his cat. Cats are very fond of the delicacy, so what was William's surprise on seeing Grimalkin lug the meat around the corner. Following her he found that she had placed it carefully in front of a large rat-hole as a bait. Then she lay in wait behind a barrel until an unwary rat came out and snapped the bait, when pussy pounced on him and broke his back with a single shake.

Played Horse with a Creditor.

James H. Russell of Ellenville, N. Y., gave a mortgage on his hotel furniture to John De Witt. Recently De Witt's lawyer went to take possession of the goods and found that the original bed room sets had been replaced by toy furniture and that a child's piano of a cheap pattern filled the place of the piano on which the mortgage was made of the mortgage and it was found that the make or style of the piano had not been specified and no description of the bed sets had been inserted.

The New Columbus.

In one of the recent public school examinations in New York City the pupils were directed to write what they knew about Columbus. One little boy handed in the following: "Christopher Columbus was born in 1492. 1776 he wandered off into the woods with a hatchet, and was never heard of again."

INFLUENCE OF GARFIELD'S LIFE.

How a Young Jersey Preacher Obtained an Interesting Memento.

A few days ago the Rev. R. H. Parker Miles, the young minister in charge of the Lyndhurst chapel, received a pleasant letter from Mrs. James A. Garfield, enclosing an autograph of her late husband. A pretty tale is furnished by this incident. A dozen years ago Mr. Miles lived in humble circumstances in a mill town in England. The book, "From Footpath to President," which relates the history of General Garfield, fell into his hands; he became a devout admirer of its hero, and determined to make his future home in a country where everything was possible to a poor boy. He came to New York and by a queer coincidence first secured employment in the office of a close friend of Garfield. Following closely in the steps of his model, Mr. Miles worked his way through college, studying first at St. Stephens, and being graduated from the Union Theological Seminary. Again like Garfield, he became a teacher, and soon after his graduation he was sent as a missionary to the West. At the first service he held, in a small Western village, an Ohio woman came to him and thanked him for his helpful sermon. To the young Englishman, Ohio was simply Garfield's home, and he said to the woman: "Did you know Garfield?" "Sure I did," was the reply, "I've heard him preach many a sermon when a young man."

These incidents further strengthened the hold of Garfield's memory on the young man, and some weeks ago he wrote to Mrs. Garfield, telling her of the marked influence of her husband's life upon his own career, and asking for her autograph, as being that of the one nearest to his hero. In her response, Mrs. Garfield thanks the young minister for his evident admiration and emulation of the dead president, and sends to him an envelope addressed to her by her husband during the war of the rebellion. The chapels over which Mr. Miles presides are connected with the First Presbyterian church of Rutherford, N. J., of which Rev. Dr. E. A. Bulkley is pastor, and since the coming of Mr. Miles, some two years ago, a large increase in the active membership has taken place.

They Never Check "To Bearer."

It is figured out that at least $5,000,000 in checks, bonds, stocks, and other good and bad paper is lost in Wall street and its environments every year. But its disappearance doesn't mean that the brokers and owners lose a cent. Brokers and other speculators never make a check out "to bearer," and it would take a mighty clever forger to slip through an indorsement, as the Wall street bank folk know all the twists and turns and marks in the signatures that are considered gilt-edged there. Certificates of shares and the like are all numbered, and nobody could sell a share unless he was known to those to whom he offered it, and it was properly transferred and indorsed on the back. As soon as a piece of negotiable paper of any kind is lost all the tickers and financial agents notify all the bankers, brokers and speculators who control tapes. These keep a record of all such, and if they are never found the man who lost them doesn't worry in the least. It's a great system and saves a heap of mental agony. Lots of money is lost in Wall street, however, but as you know how, there's no need to enter into details.

An Honest Old Pensioner.

The Carolina state auditor has received an application for a pension from a most interesting character, viz., Elijah Walker, a well-known citizen of Moore's Creek township, Pender county, N. C. Mr. Walker is now 101 years old and he enlisted as a volunteer in the confederate service when 67 years old, although past the age of exemption from military service. He fought all through the war and was severely wounded several times, having been shot in both hands, which latter wounds partially disabled him. Notwithstanding this fact, however, he has refused to accept the pension he was entitled to from the state, on the ground that he "did not think it right as long as he was able to support himself." Now, however, he says that he is no longer able to "make a living," and he has applied for the pension for the future, but for no "back arrearages." His application was promptly granted.

It Whistled Itself.

That was the little boy's excuse when he accidentally whistled in school. Just so with our CLOAKS—they're selling themselves. Every day it comes to our ears that our line is superior to any in town, and that the prices named here are the lowest. They have just arrived and will be here for your inspection, our second big line of sample garments, in all about three hundred, among them being many stylish cuts which we have not shown heretofore, being styles that have been produced for mid-season flyers. The cloths are boucles, chevots and kerseys, and in the latter are some of the nobbiest coats yet brought out. We believe we are doing twice the Cloak business of any concern in town—a statement easy to make but one which we know we can substantiate.

FUR CAPES are receiving no small attention and we call your particular notice to the special values we offer in that very popular fur, the Wool Seai, also in Astrakhan—reliable makes which you can depend on.
